

Institut AeroTechnique

Industrial services

The IAT elaborates and harnesses experimental resources to use and carry out test and research in aerodynamics for companies.

The IAT has resources to study aerodynamics as well as a metrology laboratory to develop and to calibrate wind tunnel balances and sensors. In addition to test stand facilities, measurement systems and scientific computing tools.

These abilities and resources make the IAT able to work in various areas with different companies.

<https://iat-en.cnam.fr/industrial-services-1302899.kjsp?RH=1639389210385>